

09/407651

Abstract of the Disclosure

A location marker having an upwardly converging body having one or more receptacles at the upper end which are configured to removably support chemical luminescent flares, flags or other warning devices. The device may be used by motorists, at crime scenes or even as boundary markers for sporting events.

5

66860" P. 93. 07. 03

1